Rest Periods

A Channeled Message on Cosmic Maintenance, Antimatter, and Dimensional Coordinates (April 9, 1999)

OVERVIEW

This 32-minute message explains what the beings do when not communicating with humans. They describe maintaining cosmic balance through parallel lines, matter/antimatter sequences, dimensional coordinates, and rest/restoration periods similar to human sleep and vacation.

CORE CONCEPTS

1. Communication as Rest Period: Contact with humans is an 'interim' or 'intermission'—a rest period for the beings where they coordinate and restore through communion with human consciousness.

2. Matter/Antimatter Balance: There are parallel matter and antimatter sequences requiring careful regulation. Beings must 'stay regularized within perambulate' to maintain cosmic balance.

3. Dimensional Coordinates: Like airplanes keeping flight paths and ships maintaining sea lanes, cosmic beings maintain specific coordinates within dimensional parameters to transport across vast distances swiftly.

4. Parallel Lines of Perambulation: Essences flow through 'parallel lines' and equations throughout cosmic structure. This circulation requires precise calibration and constant maintenance.

5. Divisional Parameters: Multiple dimensional divisions enable swift transportation between locations while maintaining designated coordinates—cosmic highways and intersections.

6. Shared Emotions and Consciousness: The beings share human emotions, feeling what humans feel. They're 'close with your emotions' and participate in human joy and struggle.

7. Color Sequences: Consciousness is perceived as color sequences—these are indicators of frequency and vibrational status. 'Nice color sequences' indicate harmonious consciousness.

8. Consciousness Transportation: Beings transport consciousness through dimensional channels in ways analogous to human transportation but occurring at consciousness level rather than physical.

9. Regulatory Functions: The beings' activities beyond communication involve regulating cosmic systems, maintaining dimensional balances, and overseeing evolutionary processes.

KEY TAKEAWAY

The universe requires constant maintenance at cosmic levels. Beings coordinate across matter/antimatter sequences using dimensional coordinates. Communication with humans serves as restorative 'rest periods' for higher consciousness. The cosmos is structured with precision similar to human transportation systems but operating at consciousness/energy levels rather than physical levels.
